Dr David Kolnic

Active IIC - Independent International Consultant, CKW UK Ltd.

Dr David Kolnic (South Africa) Dental Surgeon, Artist, Informal Educator and Folk Dancing Teacher, Creator and Founder, GIMME 5 South Africa. Since the age of 15

David became a youth leader and became involved in informal fun education at summer camps and winter seminars. This included preparing holistic educational programmes involving games, puzzles, artwork, stories, and song and dance. In the nineties I became the dancing teacher of the King David Dancers. Speaks: English and African.

I am certainly very committed to the 6 CREATIVE ABI Principles and I will abide by them as a member of the Initiative.

I was born in Port Elizabeth South Africa on 28th South Africa. From the age of 15 I became a youth leader and became involved in informal fun education at summer camps and winter seminars. This included preparing holistic educational programmes involving games, puzzles, artwork, stories, and song and dance. In the nineties I became the dancing teacher of the King David Dancers.

In 2004 I became involved with a unique animated holistic educational programme called Gimme 5, which can be found at Gimme5:Home 74.127.47.79. My aim is to change current world behaviour patterns through the teaching of ethics and values.

The fifteen value-based dudes seen revolving on the website form the basis of the school curricula which I have been creating, concentrating initially on Foundation Phase grades K - 12. Gimme 5 allows the teacher, peer educator, youth leader or camp counsellor to be more dynamic and intuitive, affording pupils the opportunity to think out of the box. Through its question base the board game can teach any subject, at any level in any language.

I lectured at WAG 2017 to show how to incorporate film, art and culture, interactive theatre, stories, games and puzzles, song and dance into formal and informal education.

In mentioning 6 CREATIVE ARMMEd Principles:

I believe that I can with the help of my holistic educational programme GIMME 5, provide a SUSTAINABLE PERFORMANCE in teaching ethics and values worldwide, which in turn will provide a sustainable global economy; International professional and educational activities and CURRICULA. This is specifically my aim in life; RESPONSIBLE LEADERSHIP. This is specifically my target group to achieve my aim in life; Research and development. Must follow my programme if and when it can be implemented globally; Artists (hopefully) leaders and business managers (definitely); Peace, global social responsibility and sustainability. THE ULTIMATE ACHIEVEMENT.

I sincerely believe I have the entrepreneurial educational tool that world bodies, the Gates Foundation and many others have been calling for to allow our educators and NPOs to make the world a better place.
